Hiring Team

Dash Social

Subject: Application for Development Intern

Dear Hiring Team,

As a graduate student in the Master of Applied Computer Science program at Dalhousie University, I am eager to bring my technical expertise and passion for problem-solving to your team, contributing to your mission of empowering brands to outsmart social.

With two years of professional experience as a Software Developer, I have honed skills that align closely with the responsibilities outlined for this role:

- Frontend Development: My hands-on experience with modern JavaScript frameworks like Vue.js and React has enabled me to build intuitive, responsive user interfaces.
- Backend Development: I've designed and implemented RESTful APIs in JAVA using Spring boot, ensuring efficient data communication between systems.
- Testing & Quality Assurance: I am proficient in automated testing frameworks like Cypress and Jest, which I've used to maintain robust application performance post-deployment.

I am particularly drawn to Dash Social's vision of creating sophisticated tools for social media management at scale. The opportunity to work on challenges like processing terabytes of media and serving millions of users aligns perfectly with my enthusiasm for designing scalable, high-performance solutions.

One of my most fulfilling experiences was developing an end-to-end solution for a client's content management platform, leveraging Kubernetes for deployment and ensuring seamless CI/CD integration through GitHub Actions. This mirrors the tech stack at Dash Social, giving me confidence in my ability to contribute effectively from day one. Beyond technical skills, I bring a product-first mindset and thrive in fast-paced, collaborative environments. My experience participating in hackathons and contributing to open-source projects has taught me to adapt quickly, think creatively, and embrace challenges as opportunities for growth.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the possibility of discussing how my skills and experiences align with Dash Social's goals and how I can make a meaningful impact as part of your team.

Sincerely,

Vraj Shah
